

GROUP DISCUSSION EVENT

Dr. Suruchi Singh, Assistant Professor of our department nicely conducted a group discussion among the students of B.Sc. 4th Sem (Zoology Honors) on 17.03.23 with a topic of 'Kreb's Cycle'. During the inaugural speech, Dr. Singh talks about the basics of group discussion. She focused on the importance of group discussion, when and why you need public speaking, types of group discussions, what to avoid during group discussions, various performance parameters about group discussions, scoring in group discussions and finally the taboos for the same.

Every student of B.Sc. 4th Sem (Honors) has joined the event which makes the event a fruitful one. Interestingly, 6th Sem (Zoology Honors) students also join the event as an audience to boost up their juniors. Altogether 7 groups of students (each group having 6 -8 students) participated in this interactive group discussion. During the event, an Interactive panel board was used to show the discussion matter more nicely.
