

Department of Zoology, B. H. College, Howly – 781316, Barpeta, Assam

Podium Presentation in Joint Meeting of the International Primatological Society (IPS) and the Malaysian Primatological Society (MPS) in Kuching, Malaysia

Dr. Nabajit Das, a faculty member of our Dept. attended by invitation in the joint meeting of the 29th International Primatological Society (IPS) and Malaysian Primatological Society (MPS) at Kuching, Malaysia held from 19th to 25th August, 2023, and presented his research paper on illegal trade and medicinal uses of Bengal Slow Loris (Nycticebus bengalensis) in NE India. The Congress / symposium of International Primatological Society (IPS) is typically held every two years in the Primate Range Countries in the Worldwide and serves to exchange experiences between international participants who are specifically active in the field of primate research and conservation. Dr. Das has been regularly participating in International Conferences and workshops since 2009 as invited as a speaker by different international conservation organizations.

